John Kriger will lead discussion surrounding technology dependency and safety and what apps parents should look for and the signs of cyber bullying.

John is a nationally and internationally recognized keynote speaker, author, consultant and content expert presenter. He has been a guest on radio and TV, and is a sought after opening and content expert keynote speaker for numerous national conferences.

As President of Kriger Consulting, Inc., he specializes in the health services arena, providing consulting on public speaking for improving advocacy, performance improvement and leadership, management and team development. Currently, he speaks extensively on technology dependency issues related to challenges for management, anxiety and depression, violence in the home, school and workplace, and online predatory behaviors.

We hope you can join us for this incredibly informative, age appropriate and important seminar!