

Week of December 14

Last week was the start of Hanukkah! I have a book about waiting for Hanukkah. I also have a story about Snowmen and the alphabet story, Chicka Chicka Boom Boom! There are also new activities and videos for this week.

Enjoy!

Chicka Chicka Boom Boom by Bill Martin Jr.

Chicka Chicka Boom Boom, will there be enough room?? What happens to the letters when they are all on top of the tree? Oh no! See below for a link to the story/song online.

Here are some suggested activities to do with your child this week.

Enjoy!

1. Work undercover! Tape paper on the underside of a table or chair. Have your child lay or sit under the table or chair and color!

2. Count to 20: Have your child pick a movement (jump, spin, run, any movement they want!) Then count to 20 as they do the movement. Have your child count with you. Have them pick a new movement and count to 20 again. Keep going until they are tired or no longer interested in the game.

3. Letter Freeze dance! Write letters on paper (one letter per page) and spread them around the room. You can choose about 10 to 15 letters to use at one time. Play fun music to dance to and have your child dance around. When you stop the music, your child has to find a letter and freeze. Have your child tell you the letter. Talk about words that start with that letter (C for cat, car, can, etc...)

4. Rhymes: Talk about rhyming words. You can pick a word or have your child pick an item or word. You can make up rhymes to go with the words (child picks bear: you can say "bear, share, fair, zair, lair, pear, etc..."). Make up silly rhymes too.

5. Have your child practice self help skills such as dressing and undressing, putting on socks/shoes and taking them off. Other ideas are washing hands independently, help with chores around the house such as matching socks, or other laundry, sorting silverware, setting the table, etc...
