

Week of May 24

This week, I have books by Laura Numeroff. There is a Mouse that asks for a cookie, a Moose that asks for a muffin and a dog that asks for a donut. There are also new links and activities.

Enjoy!

Books for this week:

If You Give A Mouse A Cookie by Laura Numeroff

What happens when you give a mouse a cookie? What else does the mouse ask for in the story?

Here are some suggested activities to do with your child this week. Enjoy!

1. Have your child find items in the house that can be used as an instrument. Then have a parade around the house using the instrument(s).
2. Use masking tape or chalk to make lines. Make straight, zig zag and curved lines. Then have your child walk along the lines. Talk about the types of lines (straight, curved, etc...).
3. Paper towel tube people: Get a paper towel tube and have your child draw a face on the tube. Then give the tube person a "hair cut" by having your child cut down the tube (from the top down). You can draw lines on the tube to help your child know where to cut.
4. Shape scavenger hunt. Show your child a shape or describe a shape (a shape with 3 sides, a side with 4 sides, etc...) and see if your child can find a item in that shape. For example, for circle, your child can find a can or point to a clock that is round.
5. Use foam letters or plastic letters. Give your child the letters in their name and see if they can spell out their name. See what other names your child can make such as mom, dad, sibling names, etc...
