

Week of November 30

This week I have one of my favorite stories, Dragons Love Tacos by Adam Rubin! You can talk about and share your favorite stories with your family. I also have a sweet story about a T-rex giving his friend a hug and a story about drawing pictures.

Enjoy!

Books for this week:

Dragons Love Tacos by Adam Rubin

This is one of my favorite books! This is a silly book about dragons that love tacos but do not like spicy salsa! What is your favorite book? Why is it your favorite? Share with your family!

Tiny T-Rex and the Impossible Hug by Jonathan Stutzman

Why is it difficult for Tiny T-Rex to give a hug? Who does he want to hug and why?

Here are some suggested activities to do with your child this week.

Enjoy!

1. Have a favorite book day! Let your child pick out his/her favorite book and show it to you. You can have everyone in the family share their favorite book and talk about why it is their favorite.
2. Snip paper. Using child safe scissors, have your child snip paper. Make sure they hold the scissors correctly with thumb up. If your child can snip, then have him/her cut strips of paper.
3. Number game: Show your child a number (1 to 10) and have your child find that many items. For example, show your child a 2 and he/she finds two shoes.
4. Toss game: Use a few balls or crumbled up paper and have your child toss them into a container or hit a target.
5. Talk about rhyming words. For example, the word "cat" and say words (real and silly/made up) that rhyme with cat. Cat/hat/rat/zat/lat etc...
